Our Community Guidelines

Thank you for making use of this service, we value your input and are committed to creating a community that encourages self-expression, involvement and mirrors the values of fairness and honesty in a democratic society, including respect for the rights, dignity and the property of others and to comply with our Community Guidelines and Facebook's terms of conditions.

We reserve the right to remove any content or block users that violate our community or that we determine otherwise offensive. Content will be deemed as violating or offensive if it is:

- > Threatening, defamatory, abusive, of a bullying nature, indecent, profane or objectionable.
- > Deceptive, false or misleading.
- > Fake or inaccurate posts.
- > Violating intellectual property rights.
- > Illegal.
- > Promoting a third-party or is promoting spam.
- > Slandering or insulting.
- > Trolling and troublemaking.
- > In-appropriate, offensive or hateful.
- > Racial insinuations, classism and swear words.
- > Anything that may contain and spread a virus, corrupt file or anything else that may cause damages.
- > Should we conclude that the content posted on our page violates our guidelines, the following steps or a combination may be followed:
 - Step 1: We may hide the post from our wall after requesting the user to engage us on a private platform;
 - Step 2: If you have tagged us on such a post, we may remove the tag;
 - Step 3: After steps 1 and 2 we may block the user from our page;
 - Step 4: Lastly, we reserve the right to report the user to Facebook.

The LegalWise Facebook page is managed daily by a team of Administrators, who post and share content as and when and will respond to posts Monday to Friday during working hours.
